Business Women Given Handicap, Defeat Displaymen
Two Out of Three

Anthony's last night won three games from Hubers and Logan Gasmen took from the C. D. & M. in the Industrial League bowling matches on the V. M. C. A. alleys. The C. D. & M. men did not bowl the last game. Anthony was high scorer for the night with 202 pins while Kiehm's mark of 199 was high for Hubers. Logans rolled 183 for Logans and Hubers bowled 205 for the C. D. & M.

Given a handicap of 100 points in the last game, the Marion Business Women last night defeated the Displaymen in a three game match. Zuppan's 233 was high for the Displaymen while Weston rolled 160 for the Business Women.

The regular Business Women's bowling season was held last night on the

COL. RUPPERT IS NOT IMPRESSED

New York, Feb. 10.—Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York Yankees, was both uncommunicative and unimpressed today by Babe Ruth's reported threat to quit baseball unless the terms of his contract were more to his liking. He would neither say or affirm Ruth's statement that the contract tendered him called for $52,000 a year, the same figure Ruth is understood to have received for some years previously.

"I have nothing to say about that or about anything for that matter," Ruppert said. "The signing of contracts is a private matter between our players and our club."

REPAVING PETITIONS ARE MAKING PROGRESS

Expect Work To Be Completed Before Next Meeting of City Council

Substantial progress is being made in the repaving of W. Center between Main and at and the Hocking Valley railway and it is expected that the work will be completed in time for filing the petitions with City Council at its meeting next Monday night. Representatives of the West Center Street Improvement Association stated today:

It is expected that signatures of persons owning three-fourths or more of property along the thoroughfare will be obtained.

Members of council have agreed to include the paving in the city's 1928 improvement program. The plan is to have all legislation enacted this year and other details disposed of so that the work can be started early in 1929.

Chime whistles are being used by some railroads to eliminate the harsh effect of locomotive whistles.

WAR MUST BE DECLARED AGAINST MAN'S INVISIBLE FOES

If we would avoid a return of the terrible onslaught of "INFLUENZA" which took thousands of human lives a few years ago.

Certain germ cause what are termed "infectious" diseases more or less readily communicable from one to the other. Persons who are in a run-down condition are open to infection and must protect themselves against the attacks of these "COLD, LA Grippe, and Flu" germs.

An innocent little COLD today may be a bad case of PNEUMONIA tomorrow.

The best and most effective way to wage WAR against these disease-inducing germs is to guard the entrance ways through which they pass into the body—the Mouth and Throat—and by keeping the body in good condition so as to offer a strong resistance to disease.

"SULFOX"

IN "SULFOX" WE have a Safe and Sure DISINFECTING, GERM DESTROYING AGENT. No medicine is at the same time so effective and so easy. It stops the irritation and inflammation, goes direct to the cause, fights, conquers and destroys the death-dealing germs.

If you do not feel perfectly normal DO NOT DELAY. Prompt treatment may save you weeks of needless suffering.

A proposed amendment to Marion's traffic code, which would change the plan of making left-hand turns at signal lights, is before city officials and the Marion Auto Club for consideration. It was announced today.

Temporary Coolidge Home Bounded by Automobiles

Map shows how for the Coolidges moving van (or vans) will travel and the route when the White House is turned over to reconstructionists on March 1 and the president and his wife occupy the Patterson mansion (shown on the left) in Dupont Circle.

By CHARLES F. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Dupont Circle, where the Coolidges will live, at No. 15, while the White House is being repaired, is one of the likeliest places in Washington to be run down by a street car or an automobile.

It's at the intersection of five streets: P and 10th and Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Hampshire-ave.

At the center is a park, about the area of a city block, but circular, as its name implies, with a large fountain in the middle and called after Admiral Dupont.

It's a pretty spot, but getting to it on foot, across the broad roadway which surrounds it, with motor traffic pouring in and out, in two different directions and reckless abandon at the same time, is an adventure that makes the hardest Washingtonian pause first to say his prayers.

To be sure, the police regulations require all motorists to swing to the right, but a traffic cop is seldom on the job, and some driver is always risking a left hand turn, if it will save him a few feet around the circle to get into the street he's aiming for.

To add to the excitement, a street car line semicircles the park in a direction opposite to the motor traffic, so that the pedestrian not only needs to keep a sharp lookout ahead, but another one off to warn him against dangers unseen.

The circle isn't like a street where traffic goes one way on one side and the other way on the other side. Between street cars and autos, it's all mixed up.

Washington isn't a quiet traffic town, either. A recent survey showed one busier street intersection than any in New York, and Connecticut and Massachusetts-ave are two of the most traveled in the burg.

Moreover, according to Traffic Director Hildridge, there are more irresponsible drivers here than anywhere else in the country, who aren't bound by police rules, and partly because the District of Columbia is careless about automobile titles, which makes it a convenient place to dispose of stolen cars. They sell for a song and every Tom, Dick and Harry has one.

THIS is the kind of neighborhood the presidential family will move into soon after Congress adjourns.

It's a very tough part of the city and the Patterson mansion (the Pattersons of Chicago), where they're to live, is a magnificent shack, but if President Coolidge expects to cross over to the circle for his afternoon stroll, he'd better take out an accident policy first.

Be it remembered, also, that the president has the reputation of being unlucky about getting in the way of automobiles. Perhaps he really isn't any more so than anybody else, but everybody knows about it when he has a narrow escape, whereas the ordinary pedestrian simply exchanges curse words with the driver and the incident's forgotten.

At any rate, at least three cases are of record in the newspapers where the chief executive missed being run over only by the skin of his teeth.

Once he jumped from in front of the juggernaut all by himself.

Once his secret service escort dragged him to safety by his coat tails.

Once the driver who had swung him too closely actually was arrested and fined. He complained bitterly about it, too, saying it wasn't for nearly hitting a man that he was being punished—nobody would have paid any attention to that—but that the court was making him because, through no fault of his own, his near victim happened to be the president of the United States.

But there's one thing to be said in the Dupont Circle crowd's favor. It affords a pedestrian's lot of physical exercise. The president says he doesn't get enough. He's going to the right neighborhood for plenty of it now.

BIG NAVY BLOC READY TO FORCE PREPAREDNESS

Longworth Takes Firm Stand for Building Program on "5-5-3" Ratio

Washington, Feb. 10.—Spurred on by the ringing declaration of Speaker Nicholas Longworth for a strong navy, the "big navy" bloc of the house today prepared to again force the preparedness issue with President Coolidge.

The opportunity is expected to come with disagreement between senate and house conferees on the three-cruiser amendment to the $316,000,000 naval supply bill, adopted in the senate over Mr. Coolidge's protest.

Immediately upon the report of a disagreement, a motion will be made in the house to accept the senate amendment. Having lost their cruiser fight in the house by a small margin, big navy forces are confident that another test would reverse the situation.

With Senator Hale, (Republican), of Maine, head of the senate conferees, holding out for the cruiser amendment, and Representative French, (Republican), of Idaho, house committee chairman, equally determined that Mr. Coolidge's advice shall be followed, there was admittedly little hope of a peaceful settlement of the squabble.

Takes Firm Stand
Longworth, whose activity in the first battle over the three cruisers was limited, took a firm stand for the building of a navy on the "5-5-3" ratio with Great Britain and Japan, in a speech before a preparedness group here last night.

The speech of the house leader, potential presidential candidate and son-in-law of President Roosevelt, aroused wide interest.

In a pointed answer to Mr. Coolidge's written request to congress to kill the three-cruiser amendment, Longworth asserted that "it is especially and peculiarly the duty of congress to see to it that adequate equipment and preparation for the common defense shall at all times be maintained."

He also took up the cudgels for a congressional group which contends that the budget system is being allowed to crush the independence of congress.

"In appropriating money from the national treasury, I think we should

HARVARD GRADUATE AND COAL DIGGER LEADS REVOLUTION

Captained by Powers Hapgood.

Harvard University graduate and miner, a rebellion against the regime of John L. Lewis, international president of the Mine Workers of America, has met defeat with the close of the convention at Indianapolis. Hapgood, a progressive, vigorously opposed the program of Lewis, the conservative leader, but was not seated as a delegate at the convention, the miners refusing his credentials. He believes that the coal industry should be nationalized. Hapgood is 37, holds two university degrees, and actually digs coal in mines at Crosson, Pa. He is a nephew of Norman Hapgood, the writer, and the son of William P. Hapgood, president of an Indianapolis company formed to experiment in the ownership and complete management of an industry by its employees.

follow the budget estimates as closely as possible, but to follow them blindly, at all times, particularly in questions relating to the defense of the nation, for which that bureau is in no way responsible, would be to abdicate our responsibilities and to become mere rubber stamps," Longworth said.

The American navy, he asserted, is far below the standard set at the Washington arms conference.

Children Cry For

The Young Mother.

The ill of infants and children should be so well known to the youngest of mothers that a reminder or a repetition of the symptoms of illness seems unnecessary, yet there are some mothers who overlook a feverish condition, a little colic, or a disposition to be irritable. If not corrected they may lead to serious sickness. And to correct them, to bring baby back to its happy self, is so easy by the use of Castoria—a medicine prepared just for infants and children. It will regulate the bowels (not force them), aid digestion and so bring quiet and rest.

Fletcher's Castoria has been doing this for over 30 years; regulating the stomach and bowels of infants and children. It has replaced the nauseating Castor Oil, so-called Soothing Syrup, poisonous Paregoric and other vicious concoctions in the homes of true and honest mothers—mothers who love their children.

These mothers will give their babies foods and medicines especially prepared for infants and children.

To avoid imitations, always look for the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher. Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

TAGGART BOOMS INDIANAN AS NEXT CANDIDATE

Former U. S. Senator Sees Woolen as "Dark Horse"

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 10.—Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will get the next Democratic national convention; prohibition should not be made a national campaign issue; William Gilman McAdoo of California and Gov. Alfred P. Smith of New York will mix in another hot personal battle for the presidential nomination, but Evans Woolen of Indiana is the "dark horse" to be watched.

These are the opinions of Thomas Taggart, former United States senator from Indiana and present Democratic leader of that state, as expressed to International News Service in an interview today at the Flamingo Hotel here, where the Indiana lead is enjoying a winter rest.

"I sincerely hope that prohibition will not be made a national political issue in the 1938 presidential campaign," Taggart said. "There are just as many Republicans as there are Democrats that want liquor. An attempt is now being made, as have been made in other campaigns to saddle the liquor problem on to the backs of the Democrats. But I did not want to have my party win on the issue of liquor. It should not be an issue."

See Another Battle
Governor Smith of New York and W. G. McAdoo will be the dominating figures of the 1938 convention, at its start, as they were in the Madison Square Garden struggle in 1924. Their fight will run a similar course again, but more briefly. I believe that Evans Woolen of Indianapolis is the logical selection. He is relatively known nationally, although he is strong in Indiana.

"Woolen is a former attorney, now a banker and business man, and is first vice president of the American Central Life Insurance Co. He was federal fuel administrator for Indiana in 1917 and 1918, a member of the Indiana State Council of Defense and chairman of the Indiana commission of the War Finance Corporation."

Other figures seen by Taggart as being important in the 1938 convention are Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, Edwin Thomas Meredith of Iowa, former secretary of agriculture, and Governor A. C. Ritchie of Maryland.

Would Back Smith
Taggart indicated that he did not believe Governor Smith would win the nomination, but he had this to say: "If the Democrats do nominate Smith I believe all Democrats in every section of the country—and I do not exclude the south—would vote for him; I believe he would make a good president; but Woolen would have strength which Smith could not command. He would make the best contender the Democrats have put forward in years."

Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will be the next convention city, in his opinion, Taggart said. "The struggle in the west and the cotton growers in the south present the first real problems for political solution," he declared. "Next in importance is the tariff."

Mrs. Taggart and their daughter, Lucy, are here with Taggart. They will remain until the end of March.

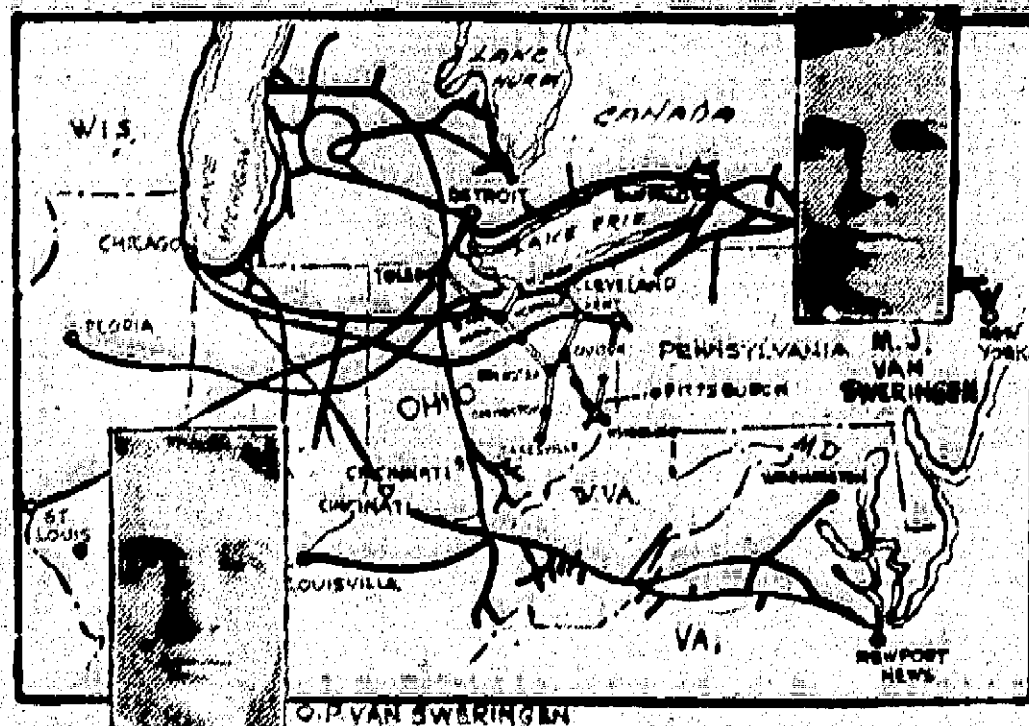

CANTO CLUB WILL SING IN NUMBER OF CITIES

The Canto Club, one of Marion's leading musical organizations, will make one, and perhaps two appearances in other cities before the next concert is given here.

At a recent meeting of the directors of the club arrangements were made for the club to go to Mansfield early in March for a concert there. All the plans with the Mansfield music leaders have been completed with the exception of the date, which will be in the first two weeks of March.

It was announced that there are also tentative plans now under way for the club to go to Mt. Gilead after the Mansfield appearance.

"GATHER" HUGE RAIL SYSTEM

Map shows the Van Sweringen's Nickel Plate system, if all the merger plans are approved; white lines show Wheeling & Lake Erie. The Van Sweringen brothers—M. J. and O. P.—of Cleveland, O., operating through their Nickel Plate railroad system, have further increased their huge railroad holdings by purchasing a sixth control in the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad. Other roads which joined in the obtaining of a working control through a spectacular market coup and private deal with John D. Rockefeller are the New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio systems. Reports in New York have it that plans have been considered for a probable combination of the Van Sweringen roads, New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio into the greatest railroad system of all—35,000 miles, capital $3,500,000,000. In the meantime, minority stockholders of the Chesapeake & Ohio oppose the Van Sweringen group's petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission for that road to purchase a majority stock interest in the Pere Marquette and Erie railroads.

Capital Asks Why Work's Coolidge Dinner So Formal

Washington, Feb. 10.—Capital society and politicians were still puzzling today over the nature of Secretary of the Interior Work's dinner to President and Mrs. Coolidge Tuesday night, and although 30 hours have elapsed no one as yet has come forward with a plausible reason for the cabinet officers' decision to turn the annual affair into what amounted to an official function. For years it has been the custom of each member of the cabinet to arrange a small and informal dinner in honor of the chief executive. These dinners have been held in the privacy of the home, or, where the department head resides in a hotel, in a private dining room. Only a few intimate friends of the cabinet officer have been invited.

Yet Work engaged the spacious Pan American Union Building which the state department employs for state functions. The Marine band played for the occasion.

Instead of a few intimate friends, his guests included the greatest figures in the financial world—Ford, Firestone, Guggenheim, E. H. Raskob, P. T. Crowley and others. Rockefeller, Schwab, Gary and Curtis were invited but unable to attend.

Present also were Secretary of Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Sir Fane Howard, the British ambassador. Rare have been the occasions when other cabinet officers have attended these gatherings, and never—at least in the memory of the oldest correspondents—has a foreign envoy graced the board.

The arrival of President and Mrs. Coolidge was announced by a fanfare of trumpets and the presidential ruffles. Every other feature of the dinner was in keeping with this ultra-formality. Those who follow the ways of society and politics—still are guessing.

WON'T PAY REWARD

Slayer of Beulah Purvis Never Convicted; Declared Insane

Cincinnati, Feb. 10.—The $1,000 reward offered by Hamilton County commissioners for the "arrest and conviction" of the slayer of Beulah Purvis, farm girl, will not be paid to Marshal Andrew Wagner, of the nearby village of Lockland, who arrested the girl's confessed slayer, it was announced here today.

Insanely as Joseph Carr, negro, who admitted that he attacked the girl last October and then threw her partially clothed and lifeless body into the Big Miami River, was adjudged insane by a jury and was never technically "convicted" for the crime, county officials decreed that no reward would be paid.

The negro has been sent to the State

First Isaly Dairy-Steam Shovel Battle Tonight

Initial Battle in Marion Basketball War Will Be Fought in Star Auditorium

All Reserved Seats Are Gone, but General Admissions Are Available; Large Crowd May Be Accommodated; Doors Open at 6:30; No Preliminary

Tonight's the night! The first great battle of the Isaly Dairy-Steam Shovel basketball series will be called promptly at 8:15 tonight in the Star auditorium. And it will be a battle. Warriors on both sides are ready for action. Lively between the two teams has reached its highest pitch and it is expected in the first game tonight. It's a grudge affair. That makes the entertainment all the better.

All reserved seats have been gone for the last two days but general admissions are on sale at Markert & Lewis and are to be secured at the box office, too. It is advisable to get your tickets before the game and avoid the rush at the box office. The doors open at 6:30. No preliminary event is scheduled. This is a game that requires no preliminary.

For the first time in the history of Marion sports, two great Marion teams, both ranking among the leaders in Central Ohio basketball circles, will clash. No title is involved but plenty of honor goes to the winning basketballer.

Ever since the season opened, the two quintets have been battling more or less on the subject of "will we play or will we not?" Now it's settled. The game tonight is the outcome of the argument.

Marion cage fans have seen basketball games and more basketball games, but tonight they will see the first of a series of THREE games. There will be no dilly-dallying on the court tonight. The men who will take the floor have played basketball for years and know every hook and crook of the game.

"Rus" Kistner, prosecuting attorney of Athens, O., will referee the contest. His services were obtained a few days ago by Manager Hinkley of the Dairies. He is one of the greatest referees in the Ohio Conference and is also uninterested in the outcome of the series, being a resident of a city at least 100 miles from Marion.

CALEDONIA BASKETEER IS OUT WITH INJURIES

Robert Whitehouse Reported To Be Suffering with Internal Ailments

Robert Whitehouse, who plays guard and forward on Caledonia's high school basketball team, is reported by Coach Broholm to be suffering from internal injuries probably received in a recent game. He will be out of the game the remainder of the season, Coach Broholm says.

The absence of Whitehouse, one of Caledonia's famous twins, will leave a gaping hole in the lineup of that team Friday night when it faces the toughest foe of the season on the Marion court. Martel is after the title and must defeat Caledonia Friday night to get near the top of the list.

The girls' game between Caledonia and Claridon postponed, Coach Broholm stated today.

The Kirkpatrick-Pleasant Township high school basketball encounter will take place at Pleasant Friday night instead of in the Kirkpatrick gym, as previously reported.

Man Tells How Matamel Relieved His Kidney and Bladder Weakness

"I have been troubled with a certain form of chronic kidney and bladder inflammation for 25 years," says Mr. Wm. H. Mitchell, 824 No. Park St., New Haven, Conn. "It has cost me a fortune for doctors and medicine without result. I had to give up work 10 years ago. I read about Matamel and bought it. To my great surprise Matamel seemed to act wonderfully with me. After taking Matamel I feel 100 per cent better. I am fine, energetic and take my daily exercise. In fact, I feel 20 years younger."

A well known doctor in commenting on the above stated: "Remember folks Matamel is not a patent medicine, but just the concentrated sap of the Mayague plant. I have personally seen men and women all walks of life receive benefit from Matamel after all other remedies had proven worthless. If you have headache—pain in back—stiff feeling morning—back of neck—stomach—nausea before the eyes—strange noises in ears or head—starry spells—poor appetite—constipation—tongue—dry, hoarse—stomach—acid—heartburn—excessive weight—restless sleep—frequent going to bathroom—don't wait until there is no chance left to help your kidneys, but at once get Matamel from—

HARDING CAGERS TO CLASH WITH ASHLAND QUINT

To Meet Tough Opposition on Local Court Friday Night

Harding High's up-and-coming basketball outfit has a tough assignment for Friday night. The high school boys will tie up with the great Ashland High School quintet on the Star Auditorium court.

Ashland is the best N. C. O. League team to appear on the home floor this season in opposition to Harding. It has lost only one game and that defeat came last week on the Mansfield floor in an overtime period. It has won three N. C. O. battles, defeating Shelby, Gallon and Delaware.

And the outcome of the tilt tonight may effect the standing in the league title race. Ashland stands second, and should it win Friday night, has a possible chance of tying for first place. However, should Harding knock 'em off, the Ashland cagers are doomed for a rest in either second, third or fourth position.

Harding's reputation in football of taking on the league leaders in the final games of the season and routing all high hopes of the opponents. Basketball fans are optimistic. They say that Harding will repeat in the cage game and pull the N. C. O. surprise here Friday night by sending the visitors home on the tail end of the score.

Landing lost the first three North Central Ohio League games of the season to Mansfield, Bucyrus and Delaware respectively. All the scores were low with the exception of the Mansfield massacre. Last week, in the fourth league contest, the locals defeated Gallon, 20 to 4. Who will predict what will happen Friday night?

The Marlettes are rapidly rounding into form. They started the season in the capacity of a green, very green, basketball team. There were no regulars from last year's squad to brace the aggregation this season. Coach Compton had only Joe Kline and Gills to represent last year's squad. They were both more or less reserves last season. Now, with the season more than half gone, the locals are coming into their own. Friday night will be the test.

Last Game Here

It will be Harding High's third and final N. C. O. League battle on the Star Auditorium court this season. Next week the boys go to Shelby and the following week they will go to Delaware for a non-league contest. Following these two games comes the district tourney at Delaware on March 4. Those who have not seen the Marlettes in action this season will have their last chance as far as Marion games are concerned, Friday night.

With the crowd that Ashland is expected to bring with it and the large number of spectators that usually turn out for the Harding cause, the auditorium promises to be comfortably filled. The game will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Defeat St. Mary's Freshmen 27 to 4 In Lepelard Affair

The St. Mary's Indians last night defeated the St. Mary's High Freshmen by a score of 27 to 4 in a lopsided contest staged in the Star Auditorium.

Lepelard made the only two field goals credited to the Freshmen. Hogan made four field goals, Farrugio counted one. Shako, scored four and Moran and Nudie were credited with one each for the Indians. Ruffing made a free throw.

SWEDS BEAT FIRESTONES

Akron, O., Feb. 10.—Oliver Ferrelle Swedes nosed out the Firestone basketball team tonight at the Non-skid gym.

The Swedes were here a week ago, handling Firestone a one-point defeat. Firestone led at the half, 30 to 21. Campbell, who scored 21 points in the game, secured six field goals and one foul in the last half. Firestone was ahead one point with two minutes to go.

BOWLING GREEN LEADING

Bowling Green, O., Feb. 10.—Having eliminated Bluffton College from any hope of winning the Northwest Ohio Conference championship, Bowling Green College is preparing for a series of non-conference games, playing Capital University at Columbus Friday and Antioch Saturday.

The Bowling Greens are leading the loop in spite of the two defeats administered by Denance and Toledo and are now waiting for the return game with Denance Match 4, which will undoubtedly decide the title.

HE LEADS DAIRIES TONIGHT

Ray Miller, stellar back guard of the Isaly Dairy basketball team, will captain the quintet tonight in the first game of the big series between the Marion Steam Shovels and Isaly Dairies in the Star Auditorium. Miller was for three years a member of the Purdue University basketball outfit, captaining that aggregation in his senior year. He has also played on other independent fives in Indiana and Ohio. Miller, at present, is considered by many as the best back guard in the city.

Western Reserve Wins Cleveland, Feb. 10.—With Bob Town crashing through at critical moments, Western Reserve's basketball quintet brushed aside Mount Union, 32 to 20, in the Reserve gym last night. Cleveland, Feb. 10.—With Bob Town crashing through at critical moments, Western Reserve's basketball quintet brushed aside Mount Union, 32 to 20, in the Reserve gym last night. It was a battle in which the strong defensive tactics of both teams caused most of the goal shooting to be done from distant points.

It was Town's shot that sent Reserve ahead after the Mounts had passed the home boys seven after the opening of the second half, and it was his repeater that again regained the lead after the visitors later took a 21-20 edge.

Jubilee's Faraner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

Tomorrow is Friday, and it ought to be a good day Saturday to ride our sled down hill and on the pond. The pond is not much good for skating, because it has been snowed on and been frozen so it is huggy.

It was cold this morning when Jubilee took the rope in his teeth and played elevator for his bees. Whitley, the fellow that wears underclothes and a necktie and carries a handkerchief, told me his mother wanted to see me, so we all went around there, and all the way there I was wondering what I had been doing or what had been found out on me or I had been blamed for, but it is only that her and Whitley's father are going out of town for something tonight and she wondered if Whitley could stay with me at my house. I told her my mother would be glad to have him, so she gave him two bits and said to get some candy for us to eat, and then we went to school.

On the way to school we were talking about Dacus Green who doesn't have to go to school, because he is silly. We all thought that ought to be a good reason for making him go to school. I stuck close to Whitley at recess and when school let out for that is as much as two-bits as it is his.

of the rope and he couldn't save himself. We all tied the rope on again and dumped Mush in the gutter.

When we got away from the bunch me and Whitley bought a quarter's worth of carmel and snuck them into our house and upstairs and peevled them and put them under his pillow to eat when we went to bed, and then we went downstairs and told my mother he is going to stay all night. She was surprised, and my ant said, "The nerve of some people!"

Jubilee was hollering outside for me to go to bed, and Whitley was playing checkers with my grandfather and letting him beat him, so I went to bed and pulled Jubilee up and put the carmel in bed on the other side of me so he wouldn't get them if I went to sleep. I let two out of my half.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARD

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

It had rained so long and so hard in Woodland, near the Orange Ice Mountains, where Uncle Wiggily had built his hollow stump bungalow, that the ground was covered deeply with slush, water, half-melted snow, and mud. Indeed, so deep was the slush that many animal folk could not get out of the hollow trees where they lived, for fear of being drowned in the deep slushy mixture of stuff on the ground.

"It's lucky we have plenty to eat in our hollow trees," said Johnny Bushytail, the squirrel boy, looking down from where he was perched on a high branch. "If we didn't have, I don't know how we'd get any, for nobody could get down to the ground to go to the store."

That was true enough, for the squirrel tree stood all by itself in the forest. Some time before this other trees had stood near it, and often Billie or Johnnie Bushytail, in going to the store for their mother, could leap from one tree to the next, by means of the overhanging branches, and so could travel along as do the monkeys in the jungle, never getting down to the ground at all.

But that can't be done now," said Johnnie looking toward the nearest tree which, he thought, was so far away that not even his father could leap from the end of the longest branch of the tree where the nest house was to the next closest tree.

The little fellow fell on his umbrella.

The air, and just when he thought he was going to land in the slush he fell right on top of—what do you think?—Uncle Wiggily's umbrella!

The old rabbit gentleman was coming home late from a lodge meeting with his umbrella up. He passed beneath the squirrel tree just as Johnnie jumped, and the little fellow dropped on the umbrella, being caught by Mr. Longears before he fell into the slush.

Quickly Johnnie explained why he had jumped, and Mr. Longears, having on his rubber boots, waded to Dr. Possum's office and soon had him back at the squirrel tree to stop Mr. Bushytail's pain. Johnnie climbed up to the nest house, and cuddled into his warm bed. He was very glad he had fallen on the bunny gentleman's umbrella instead of into the slush. And if the slush will walk home from the store with the dusting brush so it won't get lost in a snow drift, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily speaking a piece.

Don't Squeeze Blackheads — Dissolve Them

Squeezing out blackheads makes large, ugly pores. The safe and sane way to get rid of these blemishes is to dissolve them. Get two ounces of Calomel powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot wet cloth, rub over the blackheads, and every one, big or little, will disappear at once. —Adv.
